SURVIVOR-AUTHOR-SPEAKER

A COMMUNITY WHERE YOU
DISCOVER WHO YOU ARE

WHO IS ANTOINETTE TUFF?

Antoinette Tuff, an accidental hostage negotiator, called on her challenging life experiences to successfully convince an armed gunman who entered the R. E. McNair Discovery Learning Academy on August 20, 2013 to give her his AK-47.

That event made her passionate about keeping the workplace and schools a psychologically safe environments.

Her "Tuff Tactics" Techniques focus on inspiration, collaboration, teamwork and digital resources to optimize diversity and inclusion within businesses and public agencies.

Never did she think that she would become a hero saving more than 1,000 lives, a best-selling author, an international celebrity, an expert on community safety, the Founder and CEO of a non-profit, Kids on the Move for Success, Women on the Move for Success or a guest of Michelle Obama's at the State of the Union Address. Now, she uses these techniques to show leaders how they can be heroes as well.
